

Brian,

You were the third person
I met when I moved here but who the fuck cares about that anyway. Well you're a real asshole. Have a good summer anyway, see you next year

Bryan

Brian
miss meeting you with you. Good luck playing basketball

ANTONIO

Brian,
Glad we met!
See ya' next year.
Good luck in everything. Love Always,

Darlene.

Brian,
I'm glad I met you.
I know you lately. I've been thinking about you sometimes.
I hope you forgive me. If I want an older brother I'd want you to be just like you!

Love,
Bryan

Brian-ops I mean Brian!
It's been really cool getting to meet you. I can honestly say you're a different kind of guy.
Really. I hope to see a lot of you next year and over the summer which I hope will be for you a great one. Take it easy,

Love ya, Mandel
Erica Mandel

Brian,

So many people tell me what a prick you are. But since I've had a chance to meet you I've found that it's only part of the story. (Just kidding!) You're a good kid (a little lazy in my eyes). Have a good summer and all that shit. Love,

Brian,

I'm really sorry that you didn't make basketball
I'm sure you're very good.

But you're very talented & very funny.
I hope next year that you'll be in the drama club or in some show even though I won't be in them (as apt the musical I'd still be so & be around)

Have fun
over the summer
Love

"Bri," It's been real fun in Drama this year! Our little "talks" in with Mr. made me feel better! You are a very nice person. Keep up basketball, but not your injuries!!! Next time you won't have Dana and I to take you to the clinic!!!
Have a super summer!
Maybe I'll see you or year in the halls or something! Since I'll be going to Dillard.
Good luck in your "senior" year! Make it the best one yet!
Have a great year!
Love
ya,

Dear Brian,
 I don't really know where or how I met you but I'm glad I did. I hope to see your cheerful

Dedicated To J. P. Taravella

Joseph Phillip Taravella, a man whom our school was dedicated to, was a person who will always be remembered in conjunction with Coral Springs.

In 1946, Mr. Taravella became one of the three founders of Coral Ridge Properties, Inc. This company, which is a community development firm, has been a great asset in the growth of Ft. Lauderdale and Broward County. Under the direction of Mr. Taravella, the company has been responsible for the development of over 7,000 units in luxury resort hotels and apartments.

The new city of Coral Springs, a 22 square mile tract of land, in 1966 was started and acknowledged as one of the country's most successful and financially sound communities. J. P. Taravella has been responsible for the innovative financial planning of Coral Springs, in addition to the establishment of the city's publicly owned sewer and water facilities.

To the greatest degree, Mr. Taravella was responsible for the precedent - setting, planning, and development techniques, established over 30 years ago, which have made the Coral Ridge areas unique and widely copied, having withstood the tests of time and utilization.

Through his efforts 30 years ago, he was recognized by the board on their 50th anniversary when he was given an award as the man "Who has done the most for the real estate profession in Ft. Lauderdale in the last 50 years."

Mr. Taravella had been the recipient of numerous other awards through his intense interest in youth activities, such as Junior Achievement, scouting, little league baseball, and football league. In his honor, the greater Coral Springs Football Association annually presented the "J. P. Taravella Achievement Awards" attended by the governor of the state.

Mr. Taravella served at the request of Governor Reubin O'D. Askew on the environmental land Management and Study Committee because of his personal expertise in planning and development.

And so, it is with great pride that our school is named after such an important, ingenious, and kind man. J. P. Taravella's memory will last in the hearts of all Trojans.

We finally have reached our new beginning.
This is where our lives begin to change.
We will grow, discover, sort and rearrange.
Our goals are set, we've been challenged by the call.
We will work hard and be careful not to fall.
We will finish all that has to be done.
And still have time for infinite fun.

We awaited the opening of J. P. Taravella High School unsure if construction would be completed. A tradition of spirit began as homeroom teachers distributed Trojan buttons to each student, provided by Principal Beverly Baird. During our first morning announcements, Mrs. Baird expressed her gratitude towards everyone's cooperation.

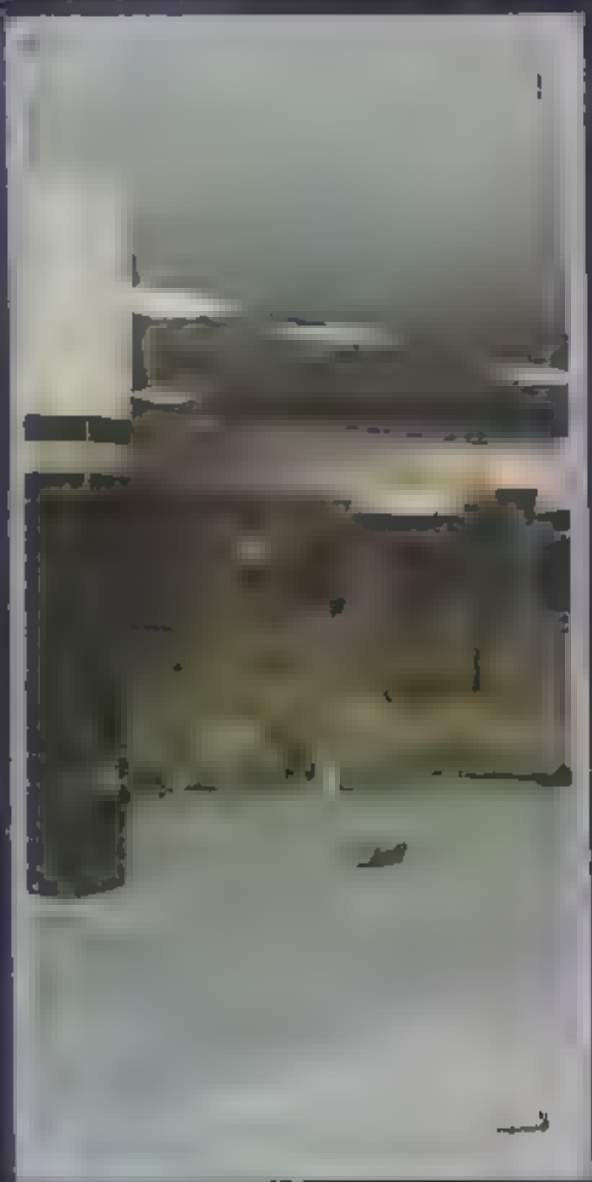

We all felt very sentimental upon receiving the beautiful bouquet of flowers sent by Coral Springs High School to wish us luck in our new beginning.

BROWARD COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD

Our first assembly was a fitting success. Many productions were made, showing the school's participation in the variety and the cheerleaders' enthusiasm. A vote for Student Council was held, and the exchange student from the Netherlands, Marie, was elected. For his good work, the opening of the school was given a standing ovation. The Baldy presented a fine show. Everyone present enjoyed the more than 100 years of history of the school, and it will be in our memories forever.

Some of the success inspired by Mr. Baird's idea for the student participation in all kinds of sports and extra-curricular activities.

Three One-Act Plays Presented by Drama Club

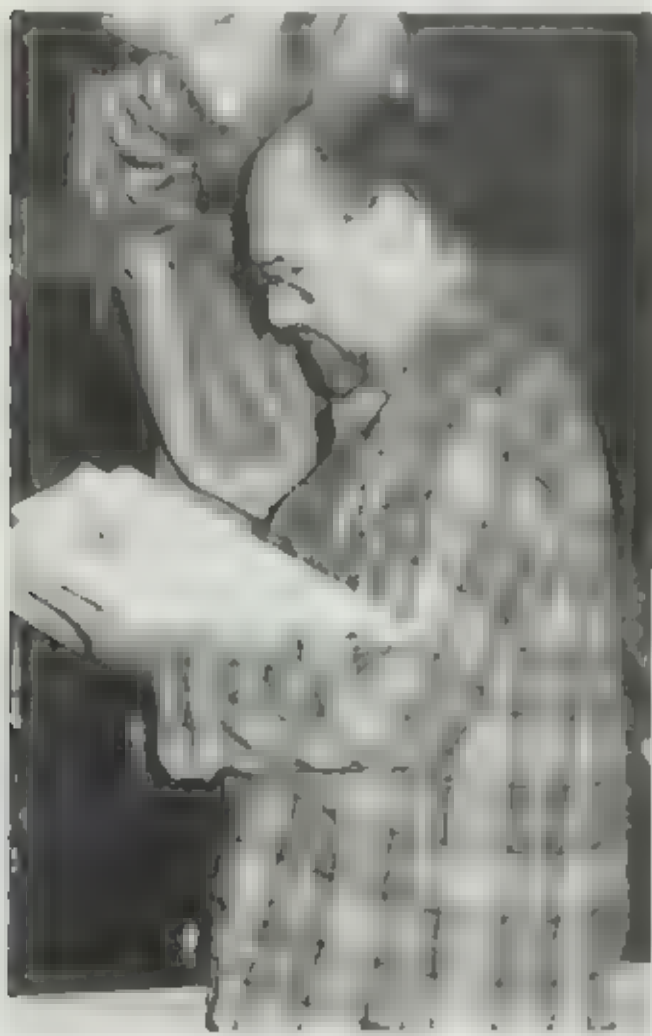

Drama presented three one-act plays prior to vacation in December. One of the plays, called Now Hear This, directed by Jennifer Cagle, was a comedy about life in a women's club. The second play called Voices, was a drama about what the human mind may be capable of. The last play, called So The Jury Was Hung, was a farce concerning what may really happen in a jury room. The plays were directed by Mr. White and assisted by Richie Nockowitz.

The drama class took approximately six weeks preparing for the plays with twenty-seven actors taking part.

Mr. White commented the performances were "Superior" and went very well. He appreciated the diverse talent with which he had the opportunity to work.

Yvette Arrives At Taravella

Yvette works hard to keep up her grades

Yvette van Hoeckel, a Rotary exchange student from the Netherlands came here in August '81 and returned home in July '82.

The idea behind this program was to give people the opportunity to experience different cultures, languages, and ideas.

Yvette enjoyed attending Taravella very much and said, "The school, for me, is very big, but full of nice people." She received help from the staff and students whenever she needed it.

Yvette sent "Groetyes" to all at Taravella.

Stars Shine at Taravella.

Our first annual talent show, "The Stars Shine at Taravella," was a great success. Students from all grades participated in many different and well-rehearsed acts, which were chosen at the audition. The whole production, directed by Mrs. Erma Whitehead and Mrs. Gwen Thornburg, was led from start to finish by three outstanding emcees: Howard Berk, Kevin Brooks, and Amy VanOostrum. The audience was wild with much enthusiasm. The seven judges had a hard time choosing the winner, since all the acts were well done. The overall winners were Jocelyn White and Maria Baker for an unbelievable baton twirling act. Taking second place was Cindy Mahovich who sang and danced while Tara Knighton accompanied her on the piano. Third place winners were Maria Petrillo and Sherry Gorman for a comedy routine.

Upbeat Week Honors Faculty

BEAUTIFY EVERY- THING ABOUT IT

Beautify Everything at Taravella (Up Beat) Week was one to brag about. All students took part in cleaning up the school and showing good will to all. During the week on teacher appreciation day all teachers were given apples. There was a day set aside in honor of Mrs. Baird. It was the year 1962 and students as well as teachers dressed up. Each class had the responsibility of designing mobiles that were hung and judged later in the week. Mrs. Erma Whitehead's second hour class won first place, for creativity. All this led up to a wonderful dedication day on Sunday, October 25.

Students Dress For Homecoming

During Homecoming Week students built spirit by dressing in imaginative costumes. Out of these various activities came Formal Day in which participants dressed in Sunday best. Hillbilly Day was dedicated to Mrs. Baird and her hometown, Barracksville, West Virginia. Students wore overalls, straw hats, and freckles. On Future Day imagination and creativity were used to depict the fashions of centuries to come.

Homecoming Week Includes Pep Rally And Bonfire

The Pep Rally and Bonfire, held on the same night, were a great success. The Pep Rally, held first, got all the football players psyched up for Friday's game. The Bonfire after the pep rally warmed everyone's spirits with wood that was donated by some of the students and staff. The flames soared as everyone cheered them on.

Our first Homecoming Game played against Pompano was a struggle to the end. The score 14-0 was disappointing, yet the fans still stayed by the varsity side cheering and screaming enthusiastically.

Parade Reveals Fantasies

The Parade held the last day of Homecoming Week was a big event for Taravella.

Each club made up a float to represent that club's fantasy. The clubs worked hard creating floats according to the theme "The Beginning of our Fantasy."

The first place float was H.O.S.A.'s "Medicine in 2001," about medicine in the future. The students made the float into a hospital room with wheelchairs and beds. In second place was Key Club whose theme "Caring Is Our Way of Life" was depicted by Peanuts characters. Third place was Drama with "Wizard of Oz." On the float was a rainbow with munchkins and a yellow brick road.

All clubs entering their floats in the parade deserved praise for their creativity and interest

Let's Groove Tonight!

The Homecoming Dance held to celebrate a terrific "If There Were a Homecoming" turned out to be marvelous. In the beginning students were shy about dancing, but once their disc jockey played the tunes, the floor was packed. Many fast tunes were requested, but when the lights dimmed and the slower songs played, these became the favorites. Everyone enjoyed the food and fun.

Principal's Message

As J.P. Taravela High School begins our initial year of existence, a year of much importance based upon the myriad of traditions that will evolve and will continue with each new student body, we salute our Odyssey.

Our first edition will certainly be a historical mark in our school's memories. To our journalism students, therefore, we pay tribute for the significant contribution in helping to make our school one we will always view with pride.

Mr. Braynon and Mr. Place ought to be cheerleaders

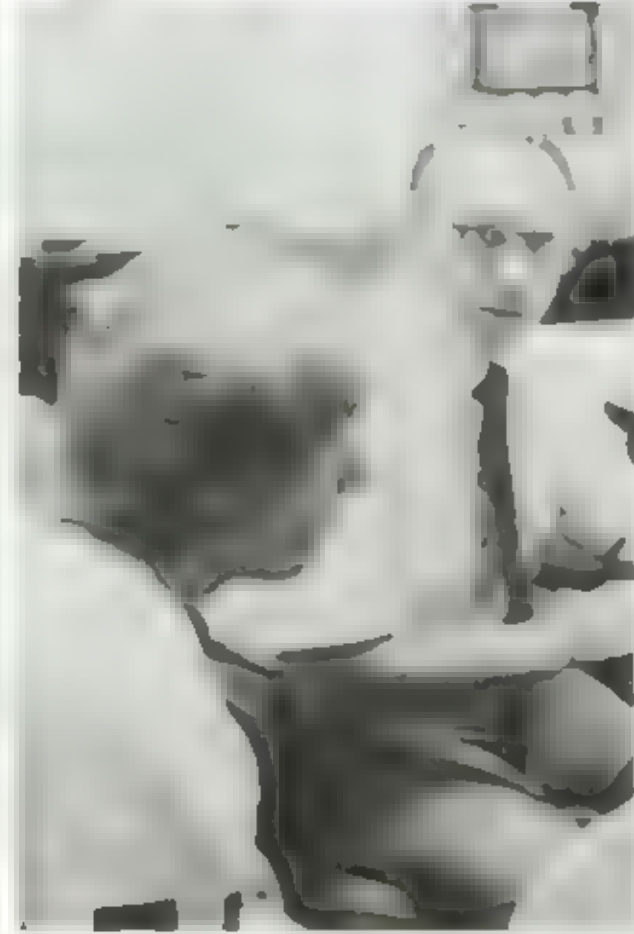

Our administrators made each day brighter with happy greetings. Formerly from Coral Springs High, our dean, Ms. Mahoney helped students to realize and correct their errors. Mr. Braynon, also from Coral Springs High, kept order at school events. He managed to encourage enthusiasm through his presence. Ms. Huber had an optimistic attitude towards her school. Taravella was #1 in her eyes as well as ours. This combination of administrators made for a spectacular year.

GOTHCHA!

All year long, students knew they could turn to their trusty guidance counselors for help. The staff, led by Mr. Place, was always willing to offer their services to those who requested them. Mr. Rapp and Mrs. Sheffield, both experienced counselors, worked with schedule changes, arranged special testing, learned of jobs or programs that might interest students and, of course, listened and helped students without judging them. Always filled with students, the guidance department offered an escape for the troubled.

Overflowing with information concerning colleges and a variety of careers, the counselors were always willing to help students to make decisions or discuss future possibilities. Representatives from a number of different colleges graced our halls, frequently speaking with college-bound students.

The resource library, found in the guidance office, was filled with everything from A to Z. Students could plan out their options using the many guides and manuals, then discuss their decisions with one of the friendly counselors.

The guidance department at J. P. Taravella truly cared about the youth of Florida. The future of this nation rests in the hands of today's youth and our counselors are helping to plan for this future. Hats off to our guidance department.

The staff was composed of very competent and understanding people, who were only too happy to help anyone with a problem or question.

Police officer Ron Diego was always present should an emergency have arisen at Taravella. Mr. Diego is from the Coral Springs Police Department.

Cafeteria Staff Prepares Gourmet Food

This year's cafeteria staff provided hungry students with favorites such as chicken-a-la-king, fried chicken and a salad bar. The staff, headed by Jean Schrencongost prepared both nutritious and delicious lunches

The snack bar gave students such tasty alternatives as pizza, hot dogs, sandwiches, and a variety of soft drinks. By working together, the cafeteria staff and the snack bar staff quieted grumbling stomachs, and gave students the energy to finish the day

We owe a great deal of thanks to both our wonderful staffs for constantly providing delicious meals and snacks for the many students at our school. Let's hope they continue to keep up the good work

Many new policies were explored for the first time. The use of library cards was abolished, but reference materials could be checked out. The library contained books which ranged from the highly academic to the most practical of vocational manuals.

Grammar Gets a Boost

Under the guidance of Ms. Diane Fettrow, the English Department helped students to expand their knowledge through such courses as Skills English, Advanced English, and Contemporary English. Also offered were newspaper and yearbook classes, both of which did a super job in preparing this yearbook and the many newspapers issued this year.

Our active Social Studies program provided students with many exciting events this year. Under the direction of Mrs. Pulease, the teachers kept their students in constant activity. The classes welcomed a variety of different guest speakers. On "food days" students tasted delicacies from every country on the map. Each sociology student had their opportunity to experience matrimony at mock weddings, while the criminology students were given lessons in the use of a hand gun. Mr. Poskitt and Mr. Karson kept the libraries filled by assigning exciting research projects. This year was electrifying for the students of social studies.

This year, the Foreign Language teachers taught not only the language of a nation, but also some of the culture that goes with that country. They designed this method to prepare students for college-level language requirements. Furthermore, students had five languages to choose from, including French, Spanish, Latin, and German. Most of these foreign language classes formed clubs that offered students a means of exploring the language and its culture further with other students taking the same language. These clubs enjoyed a variety of activities including fundraising, float making, and foreign food nights. Most of all, the students learned much from their experiences.

P.E. Produces Physically Fit Students

Physical Education gave students a break from classwork and time to stretch and tone stiff muscles. Many activities were offered, such as football, softball, soccer, and volleyball.

While P.E. students enjoyed the gym and playing field, modern dance students were introduced to their body's structure and its ability to move. Dance courses were offered to promote interrelationships between students, creativity, and discipline of the mind and body.

As physical education prepared the body, driver ed. prepared the new driver. They obtained the knowledge needed to drive on their own. Driver Education was paired with P.E. or health for a semester each, depending on a student's individual choice.

This year's graphics class found several unusual methods of printing. Between silk screening, engraving, off set printing, linoleum block printing, and photo type setting, the class also found time to delve into photography and rubber stamp making. Their work could be found on mirrors, t-shirts, poster boards, flyers, or even paper. The "materials and processes" students kept themselves busy, too. They worked with woods, metals, and plastics. All classes used their imaginations and creativity. Mr. Newman led his group of teachers in producing extremely educated students of vocational art.

Students interested in the business world had fifteen different classes to choose from. Business-related math, English, law, and accounting courses used materials such as financial records, bank statements, memoranda, data processing, and resumes. Secretarial occupations had their input also, through several different typing and shorthand classes. Business classes proved to be beneficial to our future consumers as well as business people. Ms. White, department head, directed the teachers in preparing all students for the challenges that awaited them.

Music Keeps In Tune

The symphony begins

There was a variety of music courses offered this year. The classes involved performing, such as chorus and band, or non-performing as in music appreciation and music theory. Regardless of which class students chose, they enriched themselves from experience.

The music teachers did their best to make their performing groups sound professional. The marching band, for example, practiced daily and played at most games. They had concerts in the winter and again in the spring, and they participated in competition in November. Our music teachers as well as the students certainly did an outstanding job this year

Cheerleaders Boost Spirits

We've got spirit! Yes we do! We've got spirit! How about you!

The cheerleaders really boosted spirits of the football and basketball players, as well as the students, this year. These cheery Trojans did many things for the players, such as making name tags and also giving them little gifts.

The varsity cheerleaders' sponsor was Mrs. Gartrell. The captain for the varsity team was Jill Barrett who was aided by Dina Abolafia.

The cheerleaders participated in fund-raising activities by selling Taravella T-shirts and jackets. Even after that, they still found time to make a wonderful float for Homecoming called "Winter Wonderland." They also attended a NCA cheerleading camp in August which helped them to become some of the best cheerleaders in the country.

"They were the best bunch of cheerleaders I have ever worked with," commented Mrs. Gartrell.

J.V. Gives Team Hope

RAH! RAH! RAH! Our J.V. cheerleaders were the backbone of the football and basketball games. They lifted spirits by using their creativity and talents in their cheers. They really got the crowd roaring. They practiced daily and took part in many fund raisers such as selling T-shirts, shorts, and jackets. The cheery Trojans not only worked hard at cheering at the games, but put a lot of work into their homecoming float "Winter Wonderland."

This great bunch of cheerleaders were led by sponsor, Mr. Gartrell. Tammy Carlsen and Karen Maciocci served as co-captains

Band Keeps

The Marching Trojans got off to a fine start due to the help of their director Mr. McGhee and drum major Renee Kulhanek. The leaders of the band were Band Captain Sherry Sanders, Uniform Lieutenants Donna Miller and Julie Moore, Librarian Tara Knighton, Historian Becky Fitzgerald, and Manager Scott Schoessow.

The band had a tight schedule this past year. They practiced three days a week from three to five and played at every football game. But they did have a break going on the spring trip with the drill team.

The band played at many places other than just a football field. They had two main concerts, in the winter and again in the spring. They also took part in a variety of competitions in March.

When asked to comment on the band's accomplishments, Mr. McGhee proudly exclaimed, "For a first year they did an outstanding job!"

The Taravettes did a fantastic job of promoting spirit at J.P. Taravel-la.

Mrs. Seidman, sponsor, produced an outstanding group of girls with the help of drillteam captain Lisa Machado, Flag co-captain Lynn Simon, rifle co-captain Jodie Kramer.

The drill team competed along with the band at a marching contest in November and received a superior rating. They entered the Miss Drillteam U.S.A. Pageant in February. In the winter, a series of competitions kept them busy. During March, they competed in a solo ensemble contest.

Yearbook Staff Blasts

Although the yearbook staff lacked experience, they excelled in talent and dedication. Many hours of consideration went into choosing a name for the yearbook. Eventually the name Odyssey was chosen. The name was submitted by several students whose names were put into a hat and one was chosen to win a free yearbook. The lucky winner was Sylvia Sprich.

The hardworking staff, headed by sponsor, Mrs. Arico, and editor, Janine Ashe, worked hard to meet deadlines and put out a fantastic book. Another tough problem for the group was selling ads, but as hard as it was, they reached their goal. This helped tremendously in paying for the costs of putting out a good yearbook.

One of the major jobs of the staff was photography. The photo editor, Tony Petrillo, did a fantastic job of sorting pictures and filling the staff's constant requests for photos for their sections.

The staff should be congratulated for their tough work and constant dedication, for without them J. P. Taravella's first yearbook wouldn't be such a success.

"For a new school the newspaper staff is exceedingly talented and very capable," said Sponsor C. P. Christensen, when asked about the newspaper staff. The staff did a great job this year in preparing the school's first newspaper, The Taravella Chariot.

By the end of the first semester, five issues of the Chariot had been distributed. The goal was to print ten issues throughout the year. Another big goal the staff aimed for was to have the majority of production procedures done in school, making use of graphic arts machinery.

Literarians Produce Theogony

The J. P. Taravella literary magazine called "Theogony" was an annual publication. "Theogony" was a Greek poem written by Hesiod about the arrival of gods on Earth.

Advisor, Mrs. May, and staff members, Dina Sallak, Denise Mamiscalcel, and Amy Fine, put in extra hours to get the magazine finished in time for distribution by the end of the school year. They collected and analyzed poetry, laid out the pages, and published it. The sale of the magazine helped them to raise money for supplies and enabled them to get a head start for next year.

Orchestra Is A Classic

The J. P. Taravella Orchestra performed many concerts throughout the year. Major performances included the dedication of Taravella, the National Honor Society breakfast, a breakfast meeting of the high school principals of Broward County, and several spring concerts.

The orchestra's main purpose was to introduce students and faculty to various forms of music, from classical to modern. Miss Ford conducted the orchestra through a successful year.

Latin Club's float goes back in time

The J. P. Taravella Latin Club worked together with the Coral Springs Latin Club. Both were supervised by Mrs. O'Connell who taught at both schools. Consul (president), Mary Moliski, and Pro-Consul (vice-president) Laurie Meade worked closely with the club members in organizing activities. Scriba (secretary) Joan Trimbur, assisted by Kim Kollman, took notes concerning the club's meetings. Quaestor (treasurer) Elizabeth Grant kept records of the club's money. Historian Tara Petosa, assisted by Jim Flader and Debbie Stowe, made a scrapbook of the activities of the club. Parliamentarian Jack Dodgen kept the members under control.

Formal meetings were held once a month. Fund raisers include an out-of-school candy sale and selling green carnations for St. Patrick's Day. A Roman banquet for Christmas was held with Coral Springs High School.

Latin Club members competed in the District Forum on February 20th at Coral Gables. Attending the State Forum at Daytona Beach was an achieved goal. An awards banquet was held at the end of the year to commend members who had done an outstanding job.

Wrap It Up With

The French Club was a social club for students which enabled them to promote interest in the French language and culture. In order to raise money for future activities, French Club members sold gift wrap in October. Among their many activities were a Christmas party and a French foods night in which the club members prepared a buffet dinner. An awards banquet was held in May at a popular French restaurant.

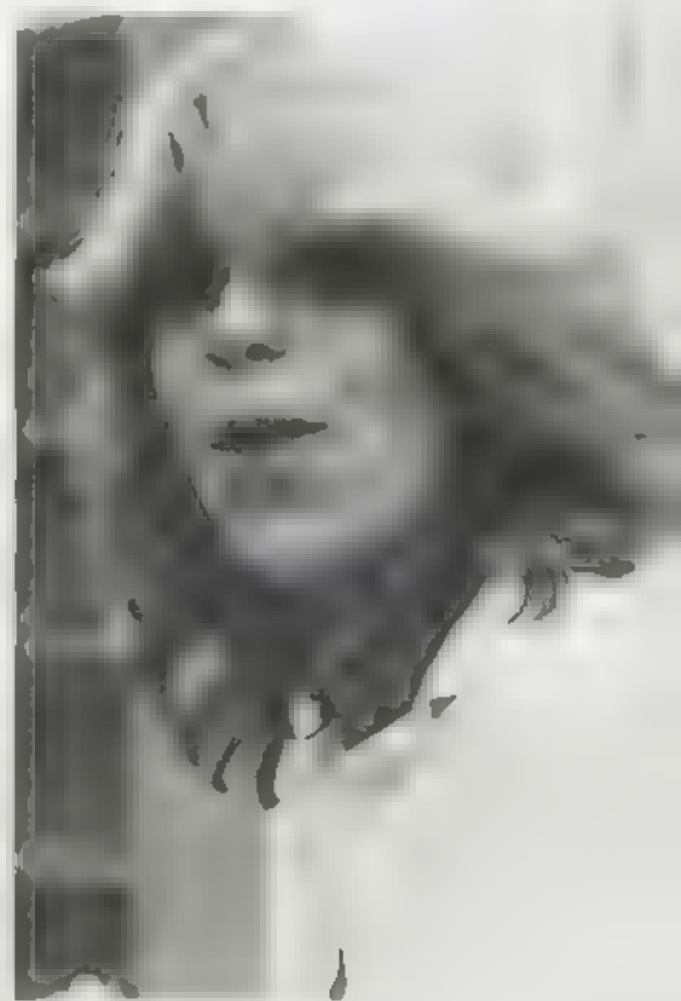

Advisor, Mrs. Hayes; president, Chris Tull; and vice-president, Sue Hecker, kept the club busy throughout the year. Lisa Possick, treasurer, kept track of the club's funds, while secretaries, Debbie Mishkin and Suzy Rossomondo, took notes of the club's meetings. Historian, Stacey Hecker, recorded the important activities of the club.

Spanish Club provided social interaction between Spanish students. During the year the club's members visited a Spanish restaurant and performed a variety of Spanish skits.

Leading the club along with the advisor, Mrs. Gandolfi, were President, Jackie Earli; Vice-President, Lauren Sinai. Abbie Wassterstrom, secretary, kept notes of the club's activities, and Ed Tureen handled the money made by fundraisers. Historians, Alison Henry and Maria Canizio, made records of the club's important activities and made a scrapbook. # Fantasies Are the Key

Key Club, a service organization for high school students, was uniquely different from others in many ways. It was sponsored by a local Kiwanis Club composed of leading business and professional men of the community.

Key Club's aim was to develop leadership ability and good citizenship. Key Club was the largest service organization of its kind in the world.

Mrs. Bernstein, advisor, held a memorable 50's sock hop with the help of her President - Sheryl Woodrow, Vice President - Sherry Gorman, Secretary - Michele Murphy, Treasurer - David Orans. This group of students were very dedicated throughout the year.

The Health Occupation Students of American (H.O.S.A.), under the direction of Mrs. Dolores Henderson, R.N., became a successful class organization. Mrs. Henderson, whose experience included nursing at North Broward and Holy Cross hospitals, aided students in experiencing the various health occupations, such as assisting at doctors' and dental offices of their choice. Because the class was held in a three-hour block, students were able to devote large amounts of time to this study.

The H.O.S.A. leaders were president - Shawna Knox, vice-president - Linda Price, secretary - Denise Pompinella, treasurer - Tami White, historian - Susan Kelly, and parliamentarian - Tracey Toothman.

These people organized many activities such as car washes, free blood pressure readings at Coral Springs Mall, and an Easter egg hunt for the mentally retarded. With the theme "Medicine 2001," H.O.S.A. received first prize in the Homecoming float contest.

The winning made HOSA's fantasy come true

DECA Leads School

Distributive Education Clubs of America (DECA) was designed to promote leadership, personal development, and career encouragement in fashion and marketing.

Under sponsor, Miss Schroid, the club held many fund raisers. They sold Hallograms, Taravella jerseys, and flowers for St. Valentine's Day. DECA also held a Christmas Fashion Show during both lunches at school.

Assisting Miss Schroid were officers Deidre Pastwa, president; Sue Szoke, vice-president; Carla Twilley, treasurer; Gayle Sheriff, secretary; and Angie Mazzola, parliamentarian.

Academics Is A Game

Academic Games was one of the few clubs at Taravella to stress academic value. The club was designed to be a learning experience.

Competitions were held after school on Wednesdays at different schools around Broward County. Games in math, history, and English were played in separate divisions.

The Academic Games Club sent a few members to the national competition in Atlanta, Georgia. This was an honor to the club and to Taravella. Mr. Paul Palevich was the advisor.

Taramedics Doctor up JPT

The Taramedic Club had a very exciting year as they experienced and explored many aspects of medicine.

The interests of the club members varied greatly, but all had a common tangent - medicine. Some fields that were explored were: psychological, veterinary, and technological

President, Lisa Anderson and vice-president, Ralph Polce kept the club entertained with new ideas and professional speakers. Secretary Pattie Morris organized and ordered the unique taramedic jerseys. All the while Mrs. Slavick, the advisor, helped organize trips to the hospitals, the most memorable one being the trip to Miami Jackson Memorial Hospital

Ms. Combs and Mr. White

The "Teacher of the Year" competition was sponsored by the Coral Springs Women's Club. Teachers were nominated to represent their schools by students and faculty. The nominations were then voted on by their faculty. Representing Taravella at the competition were Mr. Robert White and Ms. Jo Combs.

From there they advanced to the Coral Springs competition. Both Mr. White and Ms. Combs are fine examples of the excellent teaching staff at Taravella High School.

Receive Honors

Robert Allwyn White, a Taravella English teacher, is a man with a broad educational background, many years of teaching experience, and a variety of outside interests.

Mr. White received a Bachelor of Arts (BA) degree in English and Speech at Wagner College in New York. He also received Master of Arts and Liberal Sciences (MALS) degree at Dartmouth College for his work in the humanities and psychology.

He has a total of fourteen years teaching experience and has spent three years teaching at the college level. Furthermore for five years he was on the Board of Directors of the ABC Native American Indian Program of Dartmouth.

Outside of school, Mr. White is interested in theatre, photography, and creative writing. In fact, Mr. White has written five collections of original works, including three musicals. As another extracurricular event, he participated in a seventy-seven day camping trip touring thirty-eight states and Mexico.

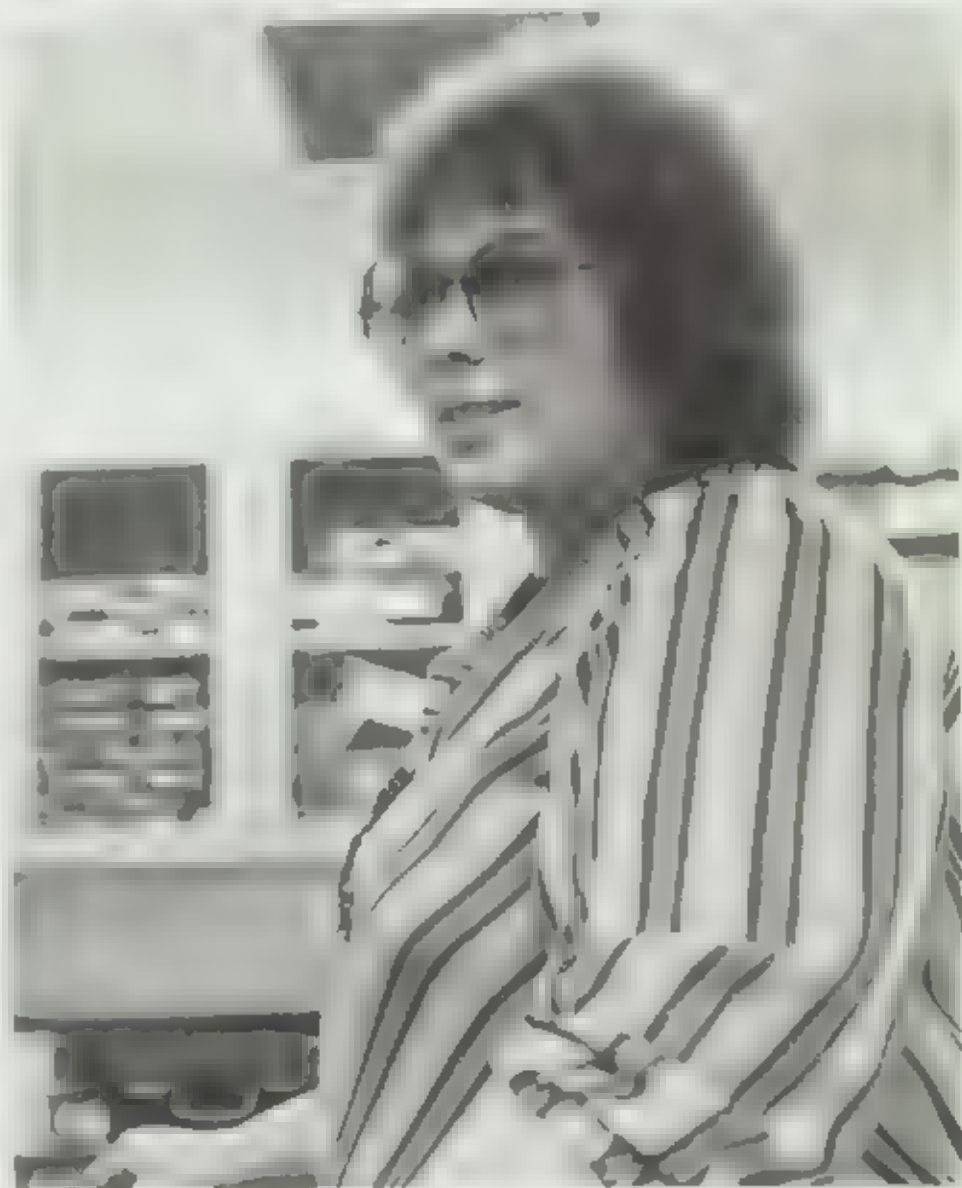

Mr. White is an asset to Taravella's faculty.

Taravella is fortunate to have Ms. Jo Combs as its Science Department Chairperson and very popular teacher. The courses she teaches range from aeronautical science, to micro genetics, to Biology I.

Ms. Combs is involved in many school activities other than teaching, including the Advisory and Steering Committees. She spent many long hours preparing for the dedication of J. P. Taravella and the first annual science fair. As a well-respected member of the Board of Directors of Broward County Science Education Association, she played an active part in the planning of the science curriculum.

Her educational background consisted of a Bachelor of Science (BS) degree from Marshall University in Huntington, West Virginia, cum laude, and a Master's degree from the University of North Florida. From her first year of teaching in 1968 up until the present, she gave style and personality to each and every class she taught.

She was a wise choice to represent Taravella at the competition.

Rise to the Heights.

J. P. Taravella students, faculty, and administrators "Rose to the Heights" during the first annual Spirit Week, February 8-12. During the week spirit hearts were given out by cheerleaders to those who demonstrated school spirit by wearing outstanding costumes for Sweetheart Day, Krazy Day, Hat Day, Sadie Hawkins Day, and Color War Day. The winners of the banner contest between the clubs were first place Drill Team, and second place Key Club. # Science Skills Reveal Talent

The first Science Fair at J. P. Taravella was a rewarding experience for many budding scientists. With many projects entered, it was a difficult decision for the judges to make. First place went to Marcia Henry for her water analysis project. David Felker took second place with his "Syndets" - Synthetic Detergent experiment. Chris Weaver and her Antacids presentation won her third prize. The winner went on to the county fair which was held February 25, 26, 27. This science fair was surely an unforgettable one.

A Day At Taravella

A day at J. P. Taravella High School was filled with many extraordinary experiences. As we walked through the main doors, we were greeted by a huge blue and silver "Welcome" sign.

Each day was unique in its own way. Six classes, each one hour long, gave everyone a variety of subjects and made the day a little more interesting. Of course, lunch was a highlight of everyone's day. Frequent pep rallies were an exhilarating ending after a hard day and kept school spirit up.

The entire faculty and student body took pride in making J. P. Taravella High School the best that it could be.

Varsity Football Has Winning Season

Varsity Football team

The Varsity football team had an outstanding year their first season out. They started the season with a crushing victory, 21-6, over the Western Wildcats. The team kept their high standards with a tremendous win of 21-0 over Chaminade, and continued their winning streak by defeating Hallandale 14-12. Probably one of the best executed games of the season was the victory over Stranahan 35-21. To top off a fantastic season the Trojans branded the Colts at their homecoming, 14-12, giving Taravella a winning season and the Mayor's Cup, along with a Colt helmet to display in the trophy case. With the help of the assistant coaches Sy Rapp, Dave Larkin, Jim Matheson, Jim Rich and a hard working head coach Ray Buscemi, the Trojans had a superior first year they could truly be proud of.

The J.V. team played against Coral Springs for their first game of the season

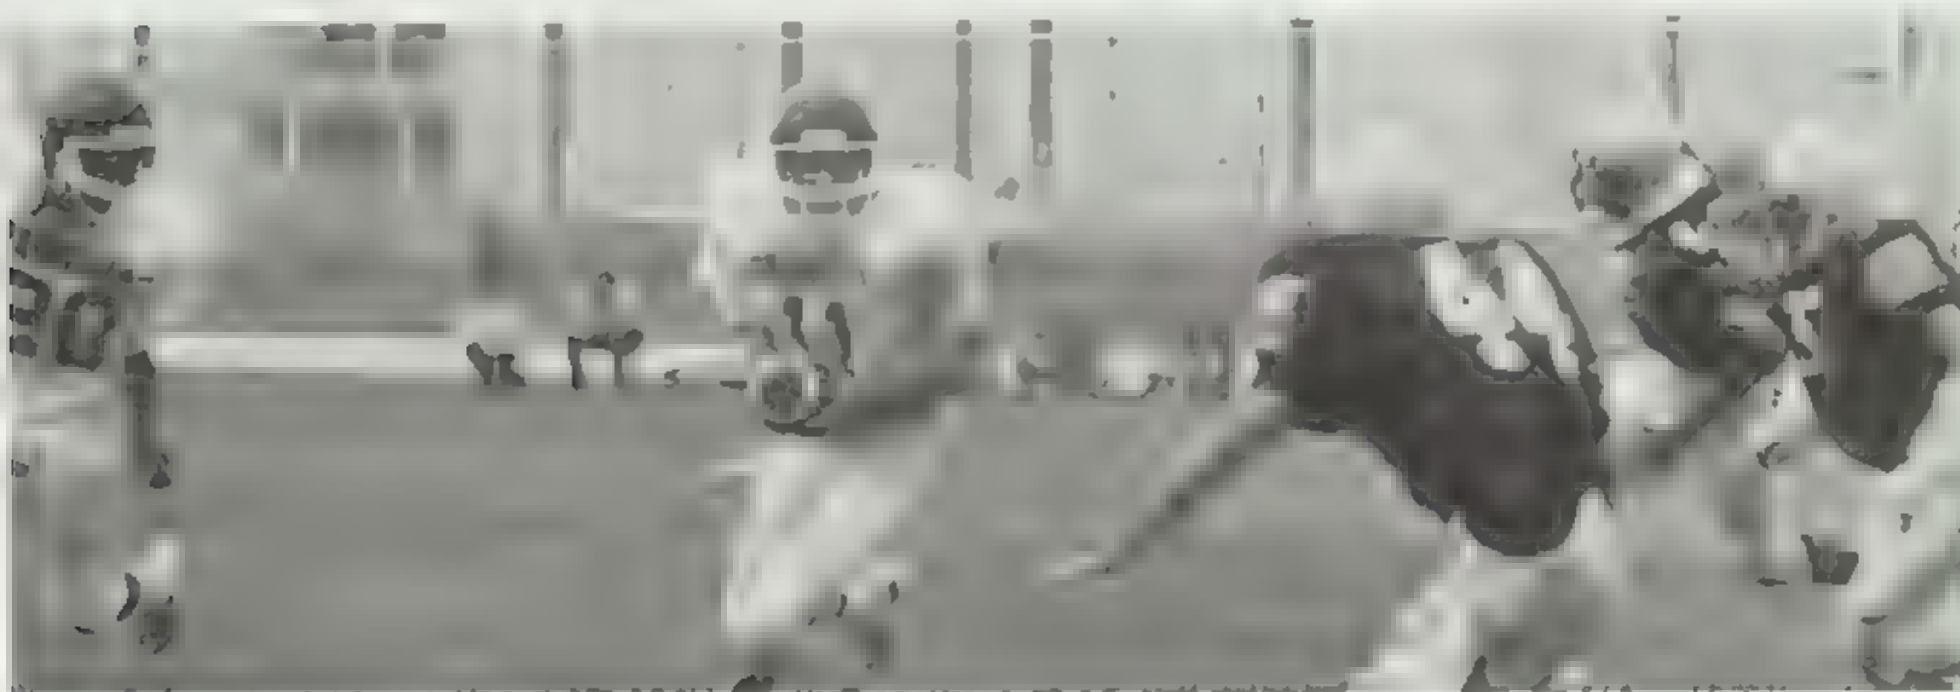

The Junior Varsity football team put out a tremendous effort and tried to live up to Taravella's expectations. Coach Jim Pazanno and his assistant coach Carter Schultz put a lot of time and effort into the team. The players also tried their hardest to make the team a success. Despite their losing record this year they proved to be a dedicated and hardworking team.

Although many people thought of volleyball as a "nothing" sport, it took a lot of skill and hard work. The Varsity record was 4-15. Their first game was against Pompano, and even though they lost it, it was a hard-fought battle. The Varsity team was led by co-captains Carro Torillo and Sheryl Spardy. During Districts, the Trojans lost to Madonna in a three game stretch. "We really should have won," said Coach Davis. The Trojans barely lost to Creek 15-13 and Springs 15-12. All of the Trojans' hard work paid off though when they had a banquet at Bobby Rubino's. The awards that were given were for most improved player, Taren Rountree, and most valuable player, Tracee Buttermore. Michelle Davis was the most consistent spiker. Mrs. Davis said, "It was a good year for us. We should be in good shape next year."

All Fun And Games

Trojans are ready and waiting

Even though this was the Trojans' first year, the J.V. Volleyball Team was out to make a name for themselves, and that's exactly what they did. The Trojans had a winning season which included a victory against Coral Springs with a score of 15-3. The J.V. squad practiced three hours every day as well as playing a 4A schedule. The Trojans were led by captain Sue Wamboldt who was terrific in her first year of high school volleyball. An award for most improved player went to Suzy Rossomondo. The girls played a tough season and proved that J.V.'s could triumph.

Varsity Basketball Bounced to Victory

The Varsity Basketball Team had a difficult first season but they proved they could withstand the pressure. Coach Stafford stated "A journey of a thousand miles begins with a single step." The Trojan basketball team went beyond that single step this year. Many times during the course of the season it was stated that the mighty Trojans were short on experience and height, but with a tremendous will to win they pulled together to form a hard-working team. They showed the Western Wildcats who's boss! The Trojans also played an excellent game against Pompano Beach with a close but winning score of 43-42. With the help of their determined coach John Stafford and a lot of team work, the Trojan basketball team definitely bounced to victory this year.

The J.V. Basketball team was composed of several outstanding free throw shooters, an excellent defense and a great offense. All players were hard-working and donated 100% of their effort to each and every game and practice. Although they did not achieve a winning record, they did learn how to cope with uncontrollable elements on the court. One of the many obstacles overcome by the team was the ability to unite as a team and work together. Coach Mascia felt the team's greatest achievement was discovering the secret to winning close games. All the players could be proud of their team.

Girls' Basketball

This year's Girls' Basketball Team was outstanding. Their efforts were strong and rewarding. Led by Coach Mathisen, the Trojans won their first game against Western with a crushing victory of 62-13.

The team's leading player was Abby Sperber who averaged twenty points per game. Abby also averaged seven rebounds per game placing her in the county's top ten for Girl's Basketball. Along with Abby, Lisa Platt was one of the team's better ball handlers. Even though she sat out part of the season with a knee injury, she contributed greatly to the team. The Trojans had two close games against Pompano and Deerfield, and even though they lost, the games were hard-fought battles. The team's most improving," said Coach Mathisen.

who helped out tremendously under the basket. She had an average of six points per game. "Everyone is improving," said Coach Mathisen. "Being as young as we are will pay off in a few years." If the Trojans upcoming seasons are like the first one, the future looks very good.

The 1981-82 Boys' Soccer Team proved to be Taravella's most outstanding group. They were one of the few teams to have a winning season. Even though they lost a few games in the tough 5A and 4A schedules, they remained undefeated in their own 3A schedule which was a Taravella first. Two of the team's most outstanding players and leading scorers were Mark Margolis and Paul Sechopoulos on offense. The co-captains were Mark Wilson and Sergio Silva. Sergio was the leader of the defense, while Mark helped support the offensive line and midfield. The Trojans enjoyed two smashing victories over Western and Ely, and also went on to defeat Deerfield twice. Unfortunately, the Trojan soccer team lost to Coral Springs High 1-0, close to the end of the season. The game was hard-fought to the end when Coral Springs won with only a few minutes left to play. Although the Trojans lost, they played fantastic, deserved to win, and gave Springs the scare of a lifetime proving to them the Trojans were no easy match. The more the boys played together, the better they became. "We're just like one big family!", said Margo.

Boys Hustle

The 1981-82 Trojan Boy's Track Team got off to a good start. The boys worked long, hard, hours, and had a tough team to prove it. Some of the leading players are Chris Novack, Paul Doherty, Tim Lyon, Chris Tull, Kyle Wilkins, and Troy Whitehead. Since there are no captains, the boys looked to Coach Poskitt and Coach Larkin for leadership. Some events the boys ran in were the 100', the 220', the 440', the 880', and the 440' relay. They also ran the agonizing one and two mile races, along with the 110' hurdles and the 330' hurdles. The boys also specialized in field events such as the shot put, discus, javelin, and the high jump. "We have a lot of good potential," said the coaches, "We should be in great shape next year."

The Girls' Track Team put in an all-out effort to have a successful first year. The young team was well-coached by Mr. Gary Boyer. The team's strong point was its determination; they never gave up even when the chips were down.

The Co-captains were Cindy Buckles and Cindy Novack. The team set some school records that definitely will be hard to beat. A few of these were: Tonoko Metoyer's 3' 8" shot put, Cindy Buckles's 28.53 in the 220, and Maria Canizio's 110 hurdles in 56.5 seconds. The track team certainly earned the name Trojans!

The Baseball Team may have been young and inexperienced, but that did not seem to bother them in the least way. Their winning attitudes led them to several victories. Coral Springs High watched them "strut their stuff" when the Trojans defeated them, 1-0, in the first half of their season. Although the team was newly hatched, Coach Napp formed the boys into a team of highly motivated players with lots of strong determination. The District Championship might not have included Taravella this year, but next year? Who knows?

The Varsity Softball Team ended its season with a moderate record. As with any new team there was a lack of experience. With a little more practice the softball team next year will dominate the field. The head coach Carol Sarel had many years of softball playing behind her so she knew what it was like to be on a team and to really want to win, while maintaining good sportsmanship at all times. The team had a great deal of raw talent which just needed molding. Taravella was lucky to have such a fine team and coaching.

Tara Petosa, and Maribeth Franklin are the sophomore class officers

Sophomore's First Step

The Sophomore Class, led by president Maribeth Franklin, vice-president Tara Petosa, and treasurer Lauren Smith, made great strides forward meeting their financial goals by selling stuffed animals, candy, and washing cars.

Homecoming proved to be a winning time for the sophomore class, as their hall decorations won first place. Their float "First Step" captured the second place title in the parade.

Freshmen Seek The Future.

The Freshmen Class started the year by setting many goals, such as making money by selling jewelry and collecting newspapers for a paper drive. The Frosh creatively decorated for Homecoming based on the theme "Outlooks on the Future". Their Homecoming float showed much hard work and cooperation.

Because they demonstrated infinite enthusiasm, the Freshmen ground work was well-laid.

Stop Sign.

It's a fact that more than 9 out of every 10 people looking for a home recognize the familiar brown and gold CENTURY 21® sign. It is so widely recognized that every day over 1,600 homes are sold by CENTURY 21 people from coast to coast.

In 1979 alone, that resulted in a staggering 579,000 closings.

Wouldn't you rather list your house with the organization that more people have put their trust in?

Just call your CENTURY 21 Neighborhood Professional* And let our stop sign start working for you.

Well we are finally finished! It took a great deal of time and effort to produce what we think is the best quality yearbook. We've had many problems since we had a new and inexperienced staff but we pulled together and worked very hard to produce 'The Odyssey', our contribution to the new J. P. Taravella High School.

We would like to thank the entire Odyssey staff for all their hard work. Also a very special thanks to Mrs. Lynn Arico, our advisor. Without her help and patience this yearbook would not have been possible to produce and we would like to thank her for her understanding and support she gave us when we needed her most.

Besides the Odyssey staff, we would like to give a great deal of credit to our representative, Mr. Tom Bernard of Walsworth Publishing Company, for the guidance and direction he gave to our staff. Also, Mr. Jim Fuller of Bryn-Alan Photography for his photographs and his many helpful picture-taking tips and a thanks to the entire administrative staff, faculty and community for their support of the J. P. Taravella yearbook staff.

We feel that J. P. Taravella High School is much more than a place for learning, it is also a place for growing, and though the school is only one year old, we believe that it is the best high school, filled with spirit, pride, friendliness, and many understanding people.

Brian,
I'm glad I
met you this year.
You + Brett just have to become friends! Well I have to say you made health class. Well I know I'll see you during the summer because I'll live write down my block. Well have a great summer in case I don't.
Have a great summer year.
Good luck in whatever you do.

the ladder to success
climb

Love
you
Laurie

(for got you are grounded)

Brian,
Drama was certainly different with you there.
It won't be the same. Had a fun year, have a good summer and a good senior year.
Love
you Laurie

brun

— Hey, Brun! In, really, it's going all going on, some things are, the age is different. But what is different?

In some ways, maybe, but a big change has been made. And I personally, I'm sure.

Is it the most wonderful you could ever see? And, yes, it is.
He makes you feel like you are still, always, almost, almost a real, real, real, real, real.

And, I think, in a way, it's just what you need. It's just
I'm going to make sure that
I'm going to make sure that

I'm going to make sure that
I'm going to make sure that
I'm going to make sure that

I'm going to make sure that
I'm going to make sure that
I'm going to make sure that
I'm going to make sure that

Angie

Brian
 your crazy
 mixed up
 but I like you in class
 way. I enjoyed being together. Hope you ready for the big 1000 grade. I'm not. You're a super summer. See you next year.
 Stephanie Schuler

Brain  $\leftarrow$  Body

Brian,

Well, you've actually done it!
You've made it through this year.
I think you're really funny guy and you probably have the most suits if ever seen in my life. Have a great summer and don't kill ~~man~~ Mrs.
Bernstein until next year so I can help.

Joe

Brian, what can I say? It's been great having you
in the 4th grade.
We became friends -
you're actually as crazy as I am. I still think we should have made a
"bird ya next year"
see ya next year.
HAVE A GREAT SUMMER!
Sandy ☺

Brian - see you
in the 5th grade!
Your really nice cute. (I said for next year! See you next year! Love
Denise

Brian
To a cool guy. Glad
I got to know you. Two years
Keep your eyes on a good know who "cause maybe someday you'll get lucky.
Love
Mia

Brian,
Well, I don't believe that you made it through a year of school. You're love so much work. It has been quite unpleasant & hope you made it through and you said "I don't know" you'll need that

Brian
You see, we go to Hanging birds - hanging fun? - hanging - well luck. Anyway, I just saw this summer out! You're allowed your friend
Bob
